NEW GULF THEATER AT WAVELAND FALLS PREY TO BIG FIRE

Consuming the Zimmerman Dwelling Adjoining—Origin Of Fire Unknown—Owner of Theater Conservatively Estimates Loss at $22,000; Insurance Approximately $16,000—Zimmerman Dwelling Carried No Insurance

Fire of unknown origin completely destroyed Waveland's handsome and spacious theater building Sunday night before 11 o'clock, entailing a loss, according to Mr. Ed Ortle, the proprietor, of $22,000.

From the best obtainable information, Mr. Ortle says the fire originated in the rear of the building, in an upper portion of the second story. Neighbors report they first heard a sizzling-like noise then a report like an explosion. However, Mr. Ortle says it was not the gas tank as that was found intact and the next morning gas from an attached pipe was burning a steady and bright blue flame. Further than this nothing more definite, as to the origin could be found.

The Gulf Theater

The Gulf Theater was a creation of the enterprise of its owner and manager, Mr. Ortle. It was built in the early summer of last year and formally opened its doors one night in June, 1937. It was complete in every particular. It had both a heating and cooling system, its sound system was of the best and its leather cushioned seats were new and roomy and set in spaces apart that gave patrons comfort and ease.

It was a distinct contribution to Waveland and community and served as a place of community gathering of evenings and always a well-selected class of programs of high-calibre pictures were presented.

On one side of the entrance was a candy shop and on the other side a barber shop, conducted by Chris Lader, who managed to save his chair. Outside of this nothing else in the building was saved. It was after the last show and practically no one was around.

Amount of insurance was not definitely known but Mr. Ortle told The Echo that some $16,000 worth was carried and that, while that would not cover his loss it would in a measure take care of his main and other losses.

Will Rebuild

Mr. Ortle told The Echo he would not hesitate to rebuild; that he would rebuild on the identical site and would have his new theater ready in ample time for the early summer; that he planned to build along improved lines and that his theater and Waveland would continue to take their place in the front row along with the other theaters and towns along the Mississippi Gulf Coast. He is to be commended for this enterprise. A man of intelligent and indomitable will he is not to be downed, although of late he seems to have been followed by a series of misfortunes. Several of his other endeavors have received a somewhat set-back.

Two and a half months ago he lost a fishing boat between here and New Orleans; two and one half weeks ago his fishing boat the "Pat" was lost, and another boat, the "Sea Coast," Saturday night, fired and ready to go out fishing the following morning sank at the pier head of Washington street. Another boat was washed off St. Joe Light, recently and 200 pounds of fish was lost, to say nothing of the boat.

But Ed. Ortle is not a man to be daunted. He is a human dynamo, an administrator and executor. He plans and executes. He is bristling with ideas and puts them into action. A business man and a doer. If he says he is going to build another theater that settles it and soon the building will again rise on the old site.

Zimmerman Loses Dwelling

The dwelling of Harry J. Zimmerman directly adjoining the theater shared the same fate and was completely destroyed. However, there was sufficient time to save all furniture and furnishings. But the building carried no insurance and was a total loss. Mr. Zimmerman, wife and daughter, Mrs. Thelma Zimmerman, landlady, Waveland's postmistress, resided at the house. Mr. Zimmerman's son, Harold, is marshal and tax-collector for Waveland. The house was of the better kind and while the loss has been quoted at $20,000 the house could not be replaced for that sum. The filling station nearby and the refreshment place to the rear were saved giant oak trees helping to shield the fury of the flames.

Fire Department Responds

Bay St. Louis city fire department was quick to respond to the alarm but lack of available water for the mechanical pumps to be used made it of no use. However, members of the fire department assisted materially in their efforts with citizens of Waveland to bring what water could be procured and help

K. C.'S TO OBSERVE XMAS

Will Contribute to Under-nourished Children of Schools—Ladies Night December 20.

FATHER OF MRS. J. A. EVANS DIES AT HOME IN TENNESSEE STATE.

George S. Boyd, Aged 81, Succumbs to Illness.

Mr. George S. Boyd, father of Mrs. (Dr.) Jas. A. Evans, passed away at his home in Kingsport, Tenn., Thursday night of last week, surrounded by his loved ones.

Mrs. Evans is expected home this Saturday night, after a month's absence during which time she was with her father, in answer to a message announcing his critical illness. He had been seriously ill for several weeks and the end was not unexpected. Mr. Boyd had visited Bay St. Louis from time to time and had quite a circle of friends and acquaintances.

He was well and widely known in Tennessee as a live stock farmer and was a successful man of affairs, connected from time to time with several business enterprises and major developments.

He is survived by his wife, two daughters and a son; the latter residing at Memphis, Tenn.

Only recently Mr. Boyd and his wife celebrated their sixtieth wedding anniversary. He was 81 years of age.

And Comb Her Hair Teacher—Johnnie, what is your greatest ambition? Johnnie—To wash mother's face!

saved the remaining buildings adjoining.

Mr. Zimmerman and others have requested The Echo to express their thanks and gratitude for the fine work rendered by both Bay St. Louis and Waveland residents in their assistance which stopped the progress of the fire and saved a further loss of many thousands of dollars. Valuable property adjoined the scene of the fire to the east.

Many visitors viewed the ruins Monday morning. They saw nothing but heaps of ashes as both the theater and Zimmerman building were completely destroyed. The fire, confined to these two buildings made a clean sweep.

The Gulf Theater was located in Coleman avenue, almost opposite the Town Hall.

WWL RADIO STATION AT ORLEANS HIGHEST POWERED IN SOUTH

From 10,000 Watts Increase To 50,000—Formal Opening Wednesday Night—Gives Territory Served Wider Expanse.

(Special Sea Coast Echo) New Orleans, La., Nov. 20.—Station WWL, owned and operated by Loyola University of the South, Sunday, November 20, increased its power from 10,000 to 50,000-watts, Vincent F. Callahan, general manager, announced last night. This makes WWL the most powerful station in this part of the South and one of the greatest powered stations in the country.

After more than a week of testing, WWL was authorized yesterday by the Federal Communications Commission to use its 50,000-watt transmitter.

WWL's new high-powered station is located on the shores of Lake Pontchartrain at the intersection of Hammond Highway and Williams Boulevard. The site of the transmitter and tower is approximately four miles from the City of Kenner, Louisiana, and about eight miles from West End.

The formal opening of the new station will be held on Wednesday night, November 30, in the Roosevelt Hotel with Richard W. Leche, Governor of Louisiana, as the principal speaker. The Columbia Broadcasting System will deliver a special coast-to-coast network program on this night to WWL, beginning at nine o'clock p. m.

Erected at a cost of more than $250,000, WWL's new transmitter and tower is expected to triple the station's audience and coverage. The station expects to give a clear signal day and night throughout Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, West Florida and East Texas.

The station has been under construction for six months under the direction of J. D. Bloom, Jr., chief engineer. Mr. Bloom says that the transmitter is the most modern available today.

"To give the people of New Orleans and the surrounding territory the best possible radio service, we have installed all new equipment and are abandoning our present location on Jefferson Highway," said Mr. Bloom. "The new location on Lake Pontchartrain was selected because experts advised us that soil conditions in that section were the best in the country. In addition, the close proximity to the lake will make WWL's signal clearer."

The tower was especially designed for WWL and is different from most radio towers throughout the country. The tower is four hundred feet high and is the heaviest of its type ever constructed. It is designed to withstand a one hundred and thirty mile wind.

Children of School Lunch Room Have Thanksgiving Repast

One hundred and twenty children of the parochial schools and of the R. W. Webb School enjoyed a special Thanksgiving lunch at the regular federal project lunch room in Hancock street, sponsored by St. Margaret's Daughters local organization.

The menu considered mainly of roast meat, vegetables, a glass of milk and oranges for dessert. The meal was taken by many of the tots for turkey, it was said. Mrs. Blaize, president of St. Margaret's announced there will be a regular and real turkey dinner for the Christmas time meal, outsiders contributing for the purchase of the extra menu.

Episcopal Minister From Orleans Loses Summer Home Garage

Value of Bay St. Louis city fire department was again proven the past week-end when fire was confined to the place of origin and adjacent property nearby was saved from destruction. The garage, rear dwelling of the Rev. Caleb Weill, Episcopal minister who spends the warm seasons at his summer home in Burnett avenue, sustained the loss of his garage. Origin of the fire was unknown.

HARVEST BALL AND FEAST

Annual Event to Take Place Wednesday, November 30—At St. Joseph Gymnasium.

No local event is attracting so much general interest as the forthcoming Harvest Ball and Feast, to be given by the Mothers' Club of St. Stanislaus College on the evening of Wednesday, November 30—next week.

This affair has been annually given at St. Stanislaus Gym but the locale of the affair is changed—to St. Joseph Academy Gym. The place itself better to such affair and this argues for further success.

Mrs. Edouard C. Carriere is general chairman of the entire event, while Mr. W. J. Gex, Jr., is chairman of the ball and feast, both with associates who are ably assisting. The Harvest Ball is considered the outstanding affair of the mid-season. Effective decoration suggestions, the harvest season and orchestral music will augment the effectiveness and happiness of the evening. A fitting affair immediately following Thanksgiving.

Mrs. (Dr.) A. P. Smith, chairman, and an active committee are in charge of the decorations.

Who will be king of the ball is the all-absorbing question. There are two candidates, one from the Junior and the other from the Senior class of the college. Both are popular and their respective friends are working diligently in their quest for votes. This, however, will be decided this Friday afternoon, November 25 when votes will be counted at 3 o'clock and the winner announced. The king thus selected will choose his queen. This will be his personal choice.

LOCAL CONTRACTORS BUSY AT HENDERSON POINT—WEST BEACH

Weiss, of New Orleans. This summer home contains five bedrooms, living and dining room, kitchen, etc., and three bathrooms. John Buehler was the contractor and did the building while Edw. Heitzman of Bay St. Louis did all the electrical work.

Fogarty, of New Orleans, and son of the late well-known Judge Fogarty. There are three bedrooms, living room, dining room, kitchen and a dormitory in the spacious attic. John Buehler also has the contract for building, A. Benvenuti of the Bay Plumbing Co., the plumbing and Edw. Heitzman, all of Bay St. Louis, the electric wiring.

FORMER BAY AND ORLEANS RESIDENT DIES AT RICHMOND

Remains Conveyed to Bay St. Louis Monday Morning—Burial at Cedar Rest.

Frederick Oswald Ogden, Sr., 67 years old, former Bay St. Louis resident on the South Bay Beach, and long identified with business and social circles in New Orleans, succumbed to an illness of a year's duration Friday night in Richmond, Va., at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Bruce Ferguson, according to dispatches received here today. Death came as he was on a protracted visit.

After years of absence Mr. Ogden had returned to Bay St. Louis about two years ago and resided at Cedar Point in the former Miss Eula Jones' place and about a year ago left here to go to Virginia.

Prior to his retirement from business activities about three years ago because of ill health Mr. Ogden was Southern representative of the Apollinaris Agency Company for 30 years. For the past two years he has visited with his daughter in Virginia.

Before his affiliation with the company he was music clerk in civil district court. His father was the late Judge Robert N. Ogden of the circuit court of appeal.

A native of New Orleans, Mr. Ogden was graduated from Tulane university's school of law.

For two generations the Ogden family were identified with New Orleans and Bay-Waveland yachting circles and intense activities.

The body reached here from Richmond Monday morning and funeral services were held from the Fahey Funeral Home, with interment in the family plot at Cedar Rest cemetery.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Ferguson and Mrs. Sara Ogden Farades, Centralia, Va.; two sons, Dr. Ogden and Frederick Oswald Ogden, Jr.; a brother, Hilaire D. Ogden, and a sister, Mrs. Carter H. Harrison, wife of the collector of internal revenue of the Chicago district and for five terms mayor of that city. Mrs. Ferguson and Mrs. Farades were of the party accompanying the remains to Bay St. Louis.

C. Loog.

Funeral was largely attended, many friends from away joining the local number who had assembled to pay tribute to the memory of this lovely character. An added tribute were the many flowers that marked the last resting place.

The passing of Miss Fannie MacCormy removes from our midst one of its likable women and one of sweet personality. She had lived a long and useful life, devoting her efforts to service and to the keeping of the large family that had been left to her care. She was devoted to very trust, sublime in the practice of her faith and her memory will remain anew by all who knew her best. Even though she had long passed the scriptural age, her demise is deeply regretted and the bereaved family have the sympathy of the community.

557 HOMESTEADS TAX EXEMPT IN BAY SAINT LOUIS.

UNDER provisions of the new Mississippi State homestead tax exemption, owners who have qualified, there are 557 homesteads in Bay St. Louis who will pay less taxes this year. The total amount of assessed valuation exemption is $664,130.00, taxes on which amount will be reimbursed to the city some time in March.

Owing to the lateness of the Attorney General's opinion, exempting property owned and occupied by what is generally termed as summer residents, a number of homesteads were unable to come under the new law. However, they will be eligible for next year.

These figures are supplied The Echo by City Tax-Collector W. L. Bourgeois, who is writing receipts and ready to collect for the 1938-39 taxes.

BRO. PETER'S CHRISTMAS TREE.

BRO. PETER, president of St. Stanislaus College is back home, and so is the annual Christmas tree for poor children of Bay St. Louis.

After an absence of six years, during which time there was no "tree" for the children of the poor, Bro. Peter is back. And the announcement is to the effect there will be the usual tree exercises at the college.

This is for all children. Denomination is of no matter. Creed is not considered. The object is to make the deprived children happy—and that will be accomplished.

Last Sunday the annual Flea-Fly football game realized sum of forty dollars gate receipts and this Bro. Peter has turned over to the tree fund. This is the nest egg.

The Sea Coast Echo fully endorses such move. And all contributions either made to Bro. Peter direct or to this office will be acknowledged in the columns of this newspaper.

We know of no greater glory that can come to the children at the Christ birth time. To many children, Christmas in the general acceptance of the term, has little or no significance. There is no illusion, no happiness and the young heart sickens and pines.

Bro. Peter has given the people of Bay St. Louis and vicinity the only one big chance to make children happy and we are thankful for this opportunity. And we will avail ourselves of the privilege to contribute—regardless of what the sum of money might be.

This is one chance to make others happy that cannot be overlooked.

Send your contribution to Bro. Peter or to The Sea Coast Echo today. It will be a gracious Thanksgiving act.

NECESSITY OF FIRE PROTECTION.

THE inadequacy of water supply and such equipment as to definitely assure protection from fire cannot be stressed too much. This applies to all communities.

Waveland's fire Sunday night well brings out the point. And so in the majority of the smaller cities.

Of course, if such situation exists, it is thru no fault of any one or group. Lack of finances is largely responsible for this failure. There is an insufficient amount of taxable values and other sources of revenue are not available.

It appears, however, in lieu of many other public improvements, and some in the more rural sections seemingly unnecessary, that federal funds, if provisions of the law permit, and we are satisfied there are no barriers, would make for the construction of waterworks systems, with adequate pressure, heavy mains, fire plugs, etc. There seems to be a rush for other improvements while that of fire protection is secondary. True, such outlays cost money in appreciable measure, especially the burden heavier when funds are to be matched by communities and the local tax-payer.

Our sister across the Bay has built such system and is now replacing water mains with larger ones, all with the aid of federal funds. We cannot stress too much on the necessity of ample fire protection. Plenty of water, pressure and the means of using these elements to advantage in case of emergency.

JITTERBUG.

THEY SAY everybody in Hollywood sees the movies, but this can't be true of the man who writes the ads for them.—Springfield News-Sun.

This is supposed to be humorous. It was taken from the funny column of a newspaper. Fully fifty per cent of the films are misnomers and carry not the least bit of sense.

How a feature is named God only knows. If a novel is dramatized into a film story the name of the book is changed to something entirely different.

Why, we do not know. Nobody else does. If the name is to sell the picture and swell box office receipts we still are at sea. No such conclusion can intelligently or logically be reached.

The name of a book, of a play, of a story, of a newspaper is always indicative of its contents or what it represents. We cannot say as much for the films of today.

The reader will experience no difficulty in writing a list of recent film features with titles that either make no sense or are entirely foreign to the story. And the list would be a long one.

The inquiry will not down. Why?

Safety rules can be summarized by "don't take a chance."

Checkoslovakia, it appears, is not the price of European peace, just the down-payment.

So far as we are concerned the jitterbugs can have the swing music.

"I will enter the campaign unfettered because of factional consideration," says Paul B. Johnson, who thinks he is running for Governor. And yet he has the avowed support and personal appointment of Bilbo. If that isn't factionalism, please invent another word to describe it.—Jackson News.

GERMANY'S BARBARISM.

GERMANY'S mistreatment of the Jews amazes American citizens who have believed that individuals should not be punished by a government except for specific wrongs, committed by the person penalized.

This is we suspect, a basis law of civilized individuals. That all Jews in Germany will be punished because a misguided youth in Paris killed a Nazi official is not justice although it demonstrates the full extent of the depravity that governs Germany.

In Germany husbands and fathers have been arrested at work and deported into barren no-man's land without cash and without the opportunity of informing their wives and children of their fate. This is brutality.

In Germany Jewish professional men and reputable business men have been forced to give up their professions and businesses, regardless of their individual character and past achievements and no way has been opened to them to make a living for themselves or their dependents. This is barbarism.

In Germany Jewish people have been barred from schools and colleges, prohibited from attending public performances and, at times, refused the right to buy food in the stores, regardless of the starvation of children and women. This is rank and outrageous inhumanity.

There is no use to continue the recital Hitlerism is intolerance, hatred and greed dominating a state that is organized for warfare on the basis of plunder. Hitlerism, it seems, represents organized robbery, theft and murder by deliberate design. It affects Germanic internal policies and it is to be seen in the aggression toward Czechoslovakia and other nations of Central and Southeastern Europe.

No wonder, in the United States, President Roosevelt, former President Hoover, Governor Landon Secretary Ickes and practically every important and responsible official denounces German brutality, barbarism and inhumanity. No wonder, throughout the civilized world, the German government shocks the conscience of the human race and now paves the way for a revolution of feeling that will, some day, hold Hitlerism responsible for its sins.

A TWO-EDGED SWORD.

THE railroad unions have won a sweeping decision in the wage cut cases.

But this does not mean they can ignore the increasingly critical position of the railroads. It should impress on intelligent labor leaders and workmen that their own jobs become daily more insecure as the railroad industry is driven toward the wall.

Railroad men don't switch easily to other occupations. They have seniority rights and pensions, which, if the company granting them goes broke, are wiped out, and age-prevents the men from regaining them on the same basis.

It has been said that trucks and busses could take over railroad transportation activity. Without arguing the question, where would that leave railroad workers? A large proportion of the railroad men could not get work on busses and trucks because they are not trained in that field, nor would they get the pay they now receive.

As railroad purchases are cut, all business suffers, and this in turn is immediately reflected back in less and less railroad hauling, employment and spending.

It doesn't take much intelligence to see that the present sweeping wage victory is a two-edged sword that can cut both ways. It has imposed a tremendous obligation in railroad labor to cooperate in some manner to help the railroads meet this present emergency and evolve a practical program for the future.

No railroad worker should feel that his cooperation is essential to help railroad management alone. His cooperation is needed primarily to save his own job, his own rights built up in his own industry and his own old-age security.

The railroad situation today is probably the outstanding example of a crisis where cooperation between management and workers is indispensable to save the jobs and investments of each.

SIMPLE—AND SOUND.

"SIMPLE and sound." That is the best characterization that can be given to a group of maxims recently detailed by Dr. Adam S. Bennion, assistant to the president of the Utah Power and Light Company.

Here they are, in brief:

1. Without profit no private enterprise can prosper.

2. Forty-eight million working people in America depend upon the maintenance of private payrolls—which can be met only by profit-making industry.

3. Industry must have the cooperation, regulation and protection of government—but the government should be an umpire not a competitor.

4. The government should withdraw from the field of competitive business in which it is using one taxpayer's money to destroy another taxpayer's business.

5. Government should not experiment beyond its means to pay, and pass the debt on to other generations.

6. There is no magic about taxes. Business may collect them—but the people pay them.

7. Let us be done with mutual bickering; with millennial reforms; with a financial system resting on the notion that "we can borrow ourselves out of debt." Let us set up the rules of sound business and let the free industry to build in the spirit of American pioneering.

You would go a long way to find a program containing more traditional common sense. We've tried one experiment after another, and spent billions—with little or no result, except to frighten and discourage industry. After ten years of depression, confusion and a long series of political panaceas, our relief rolls are at record level. Maybe it's time for a change back to fundamentals as outlined by Dr. Bennion.

41 NEWSPAPERS QUIT

(Philadelphia, Miss., Democrat)

FORTY-ONE newspapers have suspended or submerged within the past fifteen months.

Increased production costs and decreased business have combined to bring about the situation.

It is the greatest number of mergers and shutdowns in any previous 15-month period.

Six of the dailies went back to the weekly field.

The shut-downs were not confined to small papers.

Hearst, Gannett, Scripps-Howard and other giant groups have been affected.

Over 5,000 people lost their jobs by reason thereof.

The shut-downs were from one end of the country to the other.

Some of these newspapers were nearly a century old, running as high as 97 years.

One was 54 years old, another 50, two of 10 years each.

In many instances, the shut-downs and mergers were brought about by the fact that two or more newspapers were too many for the cities.

It was a case of being "over-newspapered."

But mounting costs, based upon labor and materials, was the deciding factor that brought about the high mortality rate.

It would seem that, the "squeezing process" in business is now beginning to take place.

With rising costs on every hand—involving wages, hours, materials, taxes—more than ever, a survival of the fittest.

It is a disconcerting, discouraging, disheartening spectacle to witness any firm going out of business.

Right here in Philadelphia however, within recent years, we know of one merchant who voluntarily liquidated his business rather than undergo the uncertainty and the misery of increasing expense and taxation from every side.

Business today is in a rather unhappy frame of mind.

INTO THE WASTE BASKET

(Texas Weekly)

THERE is a definite place in the average governmental department for a publicity department, or a department of public information, as they prefer to be called.

But there is definitely no need for the huge volume of mail which the Postoffice Department is requested to deliver free to thousands of newspapers in America daily, and which contributes greatly to the annual postoffice deficit.

The Texas Weekly discloses that Texas newspapers alone receive more than a million and a quarter news letters from Government departments each year.

The Government, according to this authority, is spending between thirty and forty million dollars annually for preparing newspaper publicity.

This is a tremendous amount of money to spend on material which largely finds its way into the wastebaskets.

NEGRO PHILOSOPHY

(Neshoba Democrat)

AN old slavery-time darkey was sitting on the street curb a few days ago.

"Well Uncle Mose, what do you think of the country now-a-days," he was asked.

"Well, I'll tell you. Back when I was about eight years old, President Lincoln freed the slaves. At that time, I thought he was the greatest man in the world."

"A few years ago, somebody freed all the horses, mules and cows from taxation."

"Now they have come along and freed homes from taxation."

"But on the other hand, I have about decided that the United States government has just about made slaves out of the whole passel of us," he concluded.

An old negro was just about right at that.

We don't know where we are going.

And we don't know whether we are coming back.

CHADDY'S CHATS FROM HOLLYWOOD

(For The Sea Coast Echo)

IF YOU'RE one of the many who rocked and howled and roared through the grand old slapstick stuff in Harold Lloyd's new comedy, it may interest you to know that it was Harold's wife, Mildred, who's responsible for the sort of fun in the film. Harold was on the verge of trying a "sophisticated" comedy when Mildred put in "Go hit a big guy." He took the tip—heaven be thanked!

RONALD COLEMAN came to one of those studio press questionnaires: "What would you do if you couldn't play anymore in pictures?" Wrote Ronnie, "Starve."

In his astounding career of 209 feature pictures, Jack Holt, is still a dynamic and popular star in his 22nd year of continuous motion picture activity—probably the most unusual record in Hollywood. Holt came to pictures after an adventurous career that gave him experience in many varied occupations in real life. He was an engineer—a sand bag, a soundough, a trapper, a mail-packer, a rancher, before he came to Hollywood. Since then he has portrayed almost every occupation that has figured in the annals of drama and adventure. But in his own life or on the screen, Jack Holt had never been a doctor until he played in Columbia's "Not For Glory." After 22 years of acting, most of them as a star, Holt is for the first time portraying a surgeon. He finds himself in a timely situation of present-day medicine, as a brilliant New York surgeon confronted, on his first vacation in years, with the unbelievably backward medical conditions of a mountain village. With characteristic vigor he forsakes his vacation and enters into a determined and dangerous struggle to enlighten the local forces of ignorance. Prominent in Holt's support are Beverly Roberts, Noah Beery, Jr., Barbara Pepper, Helen Jerome Eddy, Paul Everton and Russell Simpson among other capable players.

JOHN M. STAHL TOPS ALL PAST TRIUMPHS IN "LETTER OF INTRODUCTION"

Noted for his great and moving tragedies of the screen, John M. Stahl has turned his talents comedy wards.

More comedy than he has inserted in his past half-dozen productions is included in his latest, "Letter of Introduction," scheduled to be shown at the A. & G. Theater, Sunday and Monday. While this picture contains all the stirring heart-punch, dramatic punch and glowing romance of the prominent role played by Charlie McCarthy in the past accounts for the preponderance of laughs in this production.

Heading the cast are Adolphe Menjou, Andrea Leeds, Edgar Bergen with the inimitable Charlie McCarthy, and George Murphy. As the story embraces incidents in Bergen's rise to fame with McCarthy excelling in comedy opportunities were offered in its development.

Because of the unique style of comedy employed by Bergen and Charlie most of the incidents dealing with the pair and practically all of the dialogue between the two, was written by Bergen, recognized as a master comedy constructionist and writer.

The story presents Bergen as a struggling ventriloquist, who, thru meeting Menjou, is started on his road to fame. The Bergen-McCarthy sequences will include his appearance in swanky New York night clubs, his gradual rise to fame, and his ultimate success in radio.

Several other comedy sequences, between Menjou, Murphy, Andrea Leeds, Rita Johnson and Eve Arden, are spotted through the production.

Stahl is known for his direction of such pictures as "Back Street," "Magnificent Obsession," "Imitation of Life" all with fairly heavy dramatic, even tragic, themes. "Letter of Introduction" marks his departure into a new field of directorial endeavor.

Supreme Court Decisions

AMONG the Supreme Court decisions recently rendered are two which may prove of interest to the general public. One of the cases was a suit filed in the Winston County Chancery Court against the former guardian of some children to recover the balance of a trust fund which had been deposited in a bank which later failed and could only repay part of the trust fund in its liquidation. The former guardian was cashier of the bank at the time of his appointment, and failed to ask the chancellor for permission to withdraw the fund at the time the bank was in bad financial straits back in 1930, along with most of the financial institutions in the country. To do so would have meant to confess the precarious condition of the bank and thus endanger the savings of the decision of the court. Affirming the decision of the chancery court in favor of the children, the Supreme Court Justice Griffith commented: "The difficult and embarrassing position in which the appellant found himself in the gloom of the dark days then lowering upon the country excites a natural sympathy, but it must be repeated as here in one form or another so often heretofore been declared, that the wards of a guardianship come first—a guardian can have no divided interest."

Another Important Decision.

The other case affirmed a judgment of damages rendered by a Hinds county jury against the Commercial Credit Company in favor of a citizen whose automobile was seized from a parking lot by an agent of the company for an unpaid installment, without having first obtained a writ of replevin from the court. The opinion, also rendered by Justice Griffith, stated that finance companies have no authority to seize automobiles under conditional sales contracts without the usual recourse to the courts.

Of Interest to Hunters.

In the fields and water areas of Mississippi this year will be an abundance of birds and water fowl. In recognition of this fact, the duck hunting season which began on November 15 has been extended to 45 days instead of the usual 30-day period. In furtherance of its policy of adhering to the wishes of sportsmen as closely as possible, the Game and Fish Commission has issued a low-priced license of only $3.25, which is state-wide, and which licenses are now able to hunt birds in one area and then go to another area for ducks and deer—and all this for the small fee of $3.25, minus the worry over county lines.

New Quarters for Commission.

Meanwhile the State Game and Fish Commission has moved into its new quarters at the corner of Pearl and South Congress streets in Jackson. In its new location the Commission will have a new museum and a large exhibit of all species of the state's game and fish life. The museum and aquarium are open to the public, and everyone is invited cordially to visit the new headquarters while in Jackson.

"Golden Jubilee" in Pike.

The week of January 1 to 7, 1938 has been set aside for the "Golden Jubilee Home-coming" celebration for citizens of Pike County. The tentative program, which has been announced, promises to keep all residents and home-comers busy for the seven days. One of the main events will be the Golden Ball, where the Dowage Queen of 1938 and the Twentieth Century Queen will be crowned. The celebration will close on Saturday, January 7, with a "Pioneers Parade" in which will be represented many floats and bands. Among the honored guests will be Governor Hugh White and Douglas Kenna, Highway Director, both of whom are native sons. All McComb and Pike county natives who have strayed away from home are urged to plan to attend the celebration and meet once again to rejoice in the fellowship of old friends.

Prospective Forestry Legislation.

Announcement was made recently of a plan, which if enacted into law, would put Mississippi into the forefront in state forestry legislation. Mississippi's forestry problems have been under study for some time by a special legislative committee, appointed by the 1938 Legislature. The proposed laws relieve timber of ad valorem taxes and levies the tax when the timber is cut; and at the same time furnishes revenues for adequate fire protection, without added cost to the state and counties and leaves a surplus in the treasury. It is a recognized fact that reforestation in the state would mean added taxable wealth in the term of thousands of dollars and more; and would also provide employment for thousands of its citizens. The people of Mississippi should inform themselves and demand the passage of such laws at the next session of the Legislature.

R. E. A. in Mississippi.

The Rural Electrification Administration in Washington recently made an allocation to another project in Mississippi, in the amount of $968,000. This money will be used to build 400 miles of rural electric line in Clarke, Jasper, Lauderdale and Wayne counties, and will serve 1,481 customers who are not now receiving the benefits of electricity. Since July 1, 1938, the current fiscal year, $3,105,000 has been allocated to Mississippi projects. This money has been loaned to the state for the purpose of building approximately 3,300 miles of rural electric lines, and will serve approximately 12000 rural customers.

The yellow daisy's petals now are blown,
Autumn has come, autumn has come;
The breeze that's in the pines makes them to moan,
Autumn has come; autumn has come.
The birds in screaming flocks all fly away,
The sky is blood when ends the shortening day,
The green leaves redden, fall to earth and die;
The cold winds scream, and groan,
And plead and cry,
Autumn has come; autumn has come.
O my heart, there's nothing left,
Can it be that this is death?

Miss Peters and Mr. Bozeman, County Agents, Actively Engaged in Projects.

Miss Peters and Mr. Bozeman are more than glad to announce the coming of a free moving picture, "Under the 4-H Flag," December 9, to be shown at the Kiln School at 7 o'clock. Everyone in the county is invited. They feel that this will be the best way in showing the 4-H Club boys and girls parents just what 4-H Club work is and can mean to the youth of the county. The agents are appealing to club leaders to encourage and arrange transportation so that the girls and boys can attend this show.

This celebrated novel of 4-H life written by John F. Case who is editor of the Missouri Ruralist and Ex-President State Board of Agriculture and ex-director Agriculture Missouri State Fair, has been called the greatest 4-H book ever written.

The main thing to know is that the picture has its thrills and chills and entertainment along with sound constructive thinking about 4-H and about American agriculture.

News Reel

This dramatic picture-story of the most spectacular, significant high spots on the agricultural calendar, puts you in a ringside seat while the biggest farm attractions of the year take place before your very eyes—prize live stock on parade at the American Royal, International and National Dairy Shows—youth in the spotlight at the Future Farmers' convention in Kansas City and the 4-H Club Congress in Chicago—handsome huskies competing for the ladies' corn husking championship of the world... the frenzy and fury of the National Corn Husking Contest... first sextuplet calves in the history of cowdom. The National Percheron Show and the National Horse Pulling Contest. These events record for you the grandeur and the glory of American farm scenes.

An Educational Film Will Also be Shown

As you know many of the projects of the National 4-H Organization are made possible only thru the sponsorship of large industrial organizations. This program is sponsored by the Agricultural Foundation of Seers, Roebuck and Company for the purpose of portraying dramatically the ideals and the constructive activities of 4-H of giving inspiration to the present membership of 4-H and of interesting others in the 4-H program.

The county which has the largest attendance at its showing in proportion to its total rural population will be given a first prize of $1,000 for 4-H activities. Other prizes range between $250 and sixteen place prizes of $25.00 a piece. The attendance prizes will not be awarded until after the program has been shown all over the country.

We earnestly believe that it will be to the advantage of every person interested in the advancement of the 4-H movement throughout the country to get behind the showings of these programs.

Extra efforts, we believe, to increase attendance at these meetings will be amply repaid by more enthusiastic spirit for 4-H activities and 4-H standards where these pictures are shown.

Christ Church To Give Second of Series of Biblical Revelation

The second of a series of addresses on the Biblical revelation concerning the present times will be given in Christ Church, Bay St. Louis, Sunday 27th at Morning Prayer at 9:30 under the title "The Times of the Gentiles."

The first address was on "The Jews" and brought out the accurate fulfillment in history of the prophecies concerning those people and also that there would be no peace in the world until the Jew had returned to his own land, Palestine.

Addresses on related subjects will be given on the first two Sundays in December.

Any who are interested are invited to be present.

I Mean to Say, Deaf.

Your uncle seems hard of hearing. Hard of hearing? Why, once he conducted family prayers kneeling on the cat.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish through this medium to thank one and all and the public in general who readily and effectively came to our rescue Sunday night during the fire and helped us. It is due to their efforts that all of our furnishings and belongings were saved and that adjoining property was rescued from destruction. ## HOME COMING DAY AT BAY HIGH SATURDAY WAS SUCCESSFUL AFFAIR.

Homecoming Day at Bay St. Louis High School was an event worthy of the celebration accorded on Saturday, closing with a dance at night at the gym where many of the alumni had gathered and mingled with members of the football squad of Morton High School, playing previously the local team at S. S. C. stadium.

Miss Rena Nelson was elected "Miss Bay High" and young Gaynell Gex was selected as "Miss Junior Bay High."

Miss Alice Vivian Evans had been accorded the honor, by unanimous vote, as queen of the football squad, but on account of immediate mourning in the family, was not present at the dance.

Attending the football game she was presented with a bouquet of roses, with compliments of the squad.

The cheering squad, a live pep organization, with some fifty girls, gave an impressive exhibition, with cheers and yells along the lines. A parade preceded the game and was led by the Bay St. Louis High School Band which Prof. Morgan has already brought up to a high standard of efficiency.

SODALITIES WILL BE REORGANIZED

The Sodalties of the High Schools along the Coast will reorganize into Coast Union of High School Sodalties sometime in the very near future. The news was revealed by Brother Anselm, Sodality Moderator, last Tuesday in a meeting of the Student Spiritual Council, which consists of the Sodality Officers.

Brother Anselm received a letter from the Bishop of Natchez—His Excellency Bishop R. O. Gerow, D. D. giving his approval to the reorganization of the High School sodalties. In the past, the Coast Union comprised sodalties of the high schools and parishes on the Coast. The Union was not functioning last year. Through Brother Anselm's suggestion, the sodalties will again unite, but this time, two different groups or unions will be formed—that is, the High School Sodalties will form one union, while the parish Sodalties will form another union. A part of the letter received by Brother Anselm from His Excellency, Bishop Gerow, of Natchez, is the following:

"I have read with interest what you said about the Gulf Coast Union of the Sodalties, Parish and High School, and I feel that you are perfectly correct in your view that there should be two separate units of the Sodalties to take care of the two different age groups."

"I do feel that it is well worth proposing it to the various Pastors along the Coast, with the view of having them divide their sodalties into two distinct groups according to age, as outlined in your letter. You have done excellent work as Moderator of the Sodalties and I would be glad to see you continue as Moderator of the high school group, as you suggest in your letter."
